

Testimonial – Michael B.

When dealing with a medicine like cannabis, many variables arise. The strain, the potency of the cannabinoids and phenotypes all come into play. After trying countless LP's and even a few dispensaries I finally found one that suited my needs. True Compassion Toronto offered just that, compassion. From the moment I first walked in I was greeted with friendly staff who were patient enough to educate me on the many forms of cannabis. Being somewhat new to the scene I had many questions. Upon finding a method of ingestion that worked best for me they then assisted in finding the best version suitable. Sativa Dominant hybrids aide in both my anxiety and IBS. I know with their guidance and patience I can finally start the road to recovery.

Thanks True Compassion Toronto!
